THE MISSION AND AIMS OF THE SCHOOL

Our Founder's Mission

Roedean Moira House is a leading independent day and boarding School for girls aged 0 to 18 years. Founded by Charles Ingham in Surrey in 1875, and moving to Eastbourne in 1887, Roedean Moira House is an inter-denominational School that welcomes girls of all faiths into the community.

The School's ethos and Christian principles provide the framework for a holistic education that encourages all our students to be the best that they can be. Our founder, Charles Ingham, was a pioneer in female education in Victorian England, and his legacy continues in our school today with Roedean Moira House continuing to drive forward the ambition and aspiration of the girls in our care.

Our Mission Statement

Roedean Moira House, in keeping with its Christian foundation, will provide an excellent all-round education, which ensures that every student has the opportunity to attain her highest academic, artistic, musical, social and sporting potential. This will be achieved within a multi-cultural community, which maintains a global perspective, is friendly and happy yet purposeful, and affords a safe and caring environment.

Our School Motto

"Nemo a me alienus" - Approximate English translation: "Other people matter"

Our School Aims

HAPPY

- To provide a happy, safe and supportive boarding community based on Christian values in which all girls can strive for excellence.

CONFIDENT

- To enable girls to confidently discover their true potential and to work towards their full development.

ENGAGED

- To provide girls with an engaging academic environment in which they develop intellectual curiosity, independence of mind and the ability to take responsibility for their own learning.

CREATIVE & INDEPENDENT

- To provide a wide range of opportunities beyond the classroom so that girls can discover individual passions and develop a range of characteristics such as resilience, initiative, creativity, perseverance, self-confidence and the ability to work in a team.

COMPASSIONATE

- To provide girls with opportunities to develop an understanding of democracy, the rule of the law, individual liberty as well as a sense of social responsibility, integrity, compassion, mutual respect for and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs and for those without faith.

CURIOUS

- To develop their intellectual curiosity, passions and rigour as a foundation for a lifelong love of learning.

Our Definition of our Independent boarding and day school for girls

Roedean Moira House is a school...

- which remains true to its foundation as a school where the girls remain at the heart of every decision.
- where the girls have the opportunities and freedom to explore and take risks.
- where all families who seek us and are looking for the values of an all girls' education are warmly welcomed.
- where a multi denominational school inspires a multi cultural community.
- where Sixth Form leavers will be confident leaders, independent thinkers, skilled in social etiquette, resilient young women and aware of the needs of others.
